Calling All High Schoolers!
Whether you have years of experience or barely know what data science is,
Mass Initiative in Data Science (MINDS) of the American Statistical Association wants you there!

Virtual high school event on SATURDAY, November 14, 2020

WHAT?

MINDS is holding the 1st Annual Datathon, which aims to empower high school students to develop and advance data science skills.

Datathon is free and includes workshops, team events, and a plenary panel of industry professionals.

Datathon will teach students how to code in R, a free data science software used in colleges and industry.

The 2020 Datathon revolves on analyzing this COVID-19 dataset.
